Conner Wants Strong Senate

Steve Conner, Candidate for President

Steve Conner, student body presidential candidate, believes that the Student Senate should be stronger and has some programs in mind that a strong Senate could enact.

In the following interview-report, Steve reveals his basic objectives, which he believes should be implemented by the Senate next year.

What reforms will you work for in student government?

"I would work for more active participation in Student Senate by the student body. We had some this year but not as much as I would like to see. It should be better."

Will you change the procedure of the Senate?

"Student Senate will still have to take care of the typical campus problems, but I would suspect that we would keep closer watch on organizations. I would also like to continue hours in our Senate office in order that questions may be answered on any problems students may have."

What programs will you introduce if elected?

"I would like to institute changes in the hours of those in the dormitories and also housing requirements for those under 21."

"I would also like to see a change in the student-faculty discipline committee by adding more students to it."

Community Blood Bank To Sponsor Bleed-In

The third annual MSC Bleed-In, sponsored by the Nodaway Community Blood Bank, will be held Apr. 17, 18 at the UCCF-Wesley Foundation Student Center, according to Dr. Elwyn K. DeVore, chairman.

MSC is a member of the Nodaway Community Blood Bank. Provisions of such membership require that a minimum of five per cent of the student body or approximately 200 students give blood for the entire student body.

In doing so, the donors will make it possible for any student needing blood to obtain it by paying only the processing fee. The total cost of blood is $43 a pint. The processing cost is $15.

Members of the faculty are not covered in this program; they must join as community members. With this membership any student may obtain blood at this lower cost whenever or wherever necessary.

The county club is affiliated with the Community Blood Bank, Inc., Kansas City, and the St. Francis Hospital, Maryville. Blood is taken by Kansas City and local hospital personnel to be used in programs in the area.

Rare blood types are available from Kansas City for emergency use; for other types the local hospital supply will be sufficient under the plan for college and county needs.

Unmarried students under 21 who wish to donate blood must obtain parental consent.

MEN SCHEDULE DANCE

The Men's Dorm Council is sponsoring a dance at 7 p. m. Apr. 16 in the Cooper Hall Recreation Room.

Wilson Favors Senate Reform

Mike Wilson, Candidate for President

A unified student body, and several important student reforms are among the proposals planned by student body presidential candidate Mike Wilson.

His major campaign points are revealed in the following interview.

What major reforms will you work for in student government?

"I will require each senator to meet with his constituents each semester to explain what he has done and how he has served them. I feel Senators can improve this relationship."

"The Senate executive board—president, vice president, secretary—should meet the student body in a forum to explain measures and business in the Senate and future plans. This could be in the form of a 'state of the college message'."

Will you change the procedure of the Student Senate?

"Senate meetings will be more formal by following parliamentary procedure to expedite business as efficiently as possible."

What programs will you introduce if elected?

1. The Student-evaluation of instructors, now before the Senate to become a reality and available to all students;

"Armageddon," a one - act play by Stanley J. Solomon, will be presented at 6:30 p. m. tonight in the Charles Johnson Theater for the annual Easter observance sponsored by the Religious Life Council.

Characters in the play include God portrayed by Ed Witham; Satan, Reginald Turnbull, and Lover of God, Dorothy Cook.

Student Senate Plans Rules For Annual Spring Election

A guide for the student election scheduled for Apr. 17 was the main point of consideration at the Mar. 28 meeting of the MSC Student Senate.

Senator Sue Shew read the election rules that her committee would submit to campaign managers and their candidates. An issue developed over the meaning and value of the phrase "by word of mouth."

The consensus of the senators is to make the election much more open in an effort to arouse more interest and participation on the part of the students. One of the suggestions was to have an open forum for all declared candidates. This would give them a chance to explain their platform or plans.

In other business, Rod Beem explained that although Mr. Robert Seipel thinks a hall-clock would be impractical since everyone wears watches, he will arrange for installation of a clock in the lounge of Colden Hall this spring or before next fall.

It was explained that Mr. Robert Dawson has withdrawn as a faculty sponsor for the ESP Club. The senate appeared to agree that if club practices not mentioned in the club's constitution persist, a new constitution will have to be submitted.

Campus Swiss Ambassador Is Named Embers Honoree

Jo Ann Montgomery, a vocational home economics major from St. Joseph, has been selected as an Honorary Coed by Embers, the woman's honorary organization at MSC.

Miss Montgomery has been a Homecoming Queen contestant, a Miss Maryville contestant, Homecoming variety show chairman, co-chairman for

Jo Ann Montgomery

Homecoming, a member of Panhellenic Council, Greek Week committee, and head counselor for Perrin Hall.

An MSC campus ambassador to Switzerland last summer, she is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, Daughters of Diana, American Home Economics Association, and the student ambassador committee.

She plans to enter the field of commercial home economics and concentrate on merchandising.

When discussing her ideas about campus life, Miss Montgomery stated, "There is so much more to college than just going to classes."

She emphasized that students should have a combination of classes and activities to receive a well-rounded education. "Anybody can read a book!" Miss Montgomery thinks that there is a definite communication block between freshmen and upperclassmen at MSC. Most freshmen do not know enough about Homecoming and organizations on campus to become involved until their second or third year here, according to the coed.

She also stated that all students need to be aware of college life in its total perspective. As an example, she pointed to student government, "There is no sense in having nearly all class officers be Greek."

The former campus ambassador referred to that program as an example of apathy among students at MSC. After stating that there were only nine applicants for this summer's program, she said, "It really irritates me to think college students have this opportunity to travel, but don't take advantage of it."

"When I ask students why they don't apply, they have such poor excuses: 'I can't afford it'; 'My grades aren't high enough'; 'I couldn't leave my boyfriend or my parents for a whole summer'; 'I don't know the language.'"

Miss Montgomery stressed that grades, money, and language barriers are not really major problems for campus ambassadors because there are many ways they can receive assistance. "Boyfriends and parents shouldn't be exaggerated into major problems, either."

Senate Sponsors Officer Workshop

Officers' Training School was a success, according to many of those participating in the recent venture of the Student Senate.

Despite the necessity of rescheduling the event twice because of conflicts, the meeting was well attended.

Mr. Russell Morey, management instructor, opened the meeting with comments concerning the establishment of an executive council which would set the basic objectives of an organization, the schedule for reaching the objectives, and the policies of the organization. He also stated that the challenge for leadership is to tap the fullest potentials from their charges.

After the introductory remarks, those present were divided into sections for discussion of common problems and responsibilities. At this time, some valuable ideas about methods of motivation and techniques for helping others assume responsibility were shared.

These were recorded by members of the Student Senate in the respective groups of presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, treasurers, and social chairmen, and are on file for reference.

New KDLX D. J.'s Take to the Air

Community Chorus, Orchestra To Present Easter Cantata

"The Crucifixion," a sacred cantata, is to be performed on Good Friday evening at the Charles Johnson Theater by a combined chorus and orchestra of approximately 125 musicians.

"The Crucifixion," composed by Sir John Stainer in 1887, is considered to be his best work. The text of "The Crucifixion" is a combination of selected passages from the Bible and original verses by the Rev. John W. Sparrow-Simpson, a graduate of Trinity College, Cambridge.

Other well-known compositions by Stainer are the oratorio, "Gideon," and the famous "Seven-fold Amen," which is in many protestant hymnals. Stainer was considered by his contemporaries to be the finest composer of sacred music during the late Victorian period.

Several faculty members and students will have solo parts. Principal soloists are Mr. Byron Mitchell, Mr. Gilbert Whitney, and Mr. Ken Bittiker. Others with solo parts are Mike Miller, David Russell, John Liddle, Mrs. Lee Schneider, and Mrs. Byron Mitchell. In addition, many of the music faculty members will be playing in the orchestra. Dr. Donald Sandford will be the concertmaster of the orchestra; Dr. Robert Govier is the director.

The performance is sponsored by the Nodaway Arts Council and the Maryville Ministerial Alliance.

Mr. Houghton Cited As Master Teacher

Mr. F. B. Houghton Sr., instructor in animal science at MSC, received the Master Teacher Award Mar. 27 at the annual banquet of Delta Tau Alpha, honorary fraternity for students majoring in agriculture.

F. B. Houghton Sr.

The honoree's name was submitted to and recognized for the award by the Evaluation and Recognition Committee of the National Association of colleges, Teachers of Agriculture. Questionnaires answered by students of Mr. Houghton were decisive in his winning the award. Mr. Russell Cannon, master of ceremonies for the banquet, presented the citation to the honored instructor.

Mr. Houghton came to MSC in 1946 from Maryville High School, where he had taught vocational agriculture for six years.

New Equipment Added To Wells Library

Chairs, tables, office furniture, step stools, book trucks, microfilm readers, filing cabinets and other equipment valued at $100,000 are arriving at Wells Library, according to Mr. James Johnson, librarian.

The books were purchased mainly from federal aid money; however, some things such as the new drapes will be purchased with state funds.

Mr. Johnson hopes the stacks will be ready for installation next month. Every book must be completely rearranged, but the library service will not be disrupted, and all of its books will be available.

Governor Commends Fraternity, MSC for Support of Servicemen

In a letter received last week by the men of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity, The Hon. Warren E. Hearnes, governor of Missouri, expressed his appreciation to the fraternity members and their fellow students at MSC for the dramatic effort they made to illustrate students' support for United States' servicemen.

The fraternity members, 47 strong, staged a 260-mile marathon run March 24-26 to deliver a petition signed by more than 1,000 MSC students to the governor in Jefferson City. The petition proclaimed MSC support for the efforts of American servicemen.

Held in cooperation with the "Support Our Servicemen" campaign of the American Red Cross, the runners traversed the distance to the state capital in slightly more than 48 hours, each running more than five miles in the process.

The letter from Gov. Hearnes follows:

29 March 1968

MEN OF DELTA SIGMA PHI:

I sincerely appreciate, as do countless other people, the support for our servicemen which you demonstrated through gathering signatures on your campus and delivering your message to my office in Jefferson City.

The men of Delta Sigma Phi and their fellow students at Northwest Missouri State College have dramatically demonstrated that while we in America may often disagree about policies that are being followed, even extending to a foreign war, we never fail to unite in support of the uniformed men who represent our nation.

Thank you for showing once again that Missouri's college students are responsible men and women who speak up for their beliefs, as they should.

Sincerely yours,
Warren E. Hearnes

Reading Council To Have Dinner

The Northwest Missouri International Reading Association Council will sponsor a 6:30 p. m. dinner Apr. 17 in the Student Union Ballroom.

Featured as guest speaker is Dr. A. Sterl Artley, noted reading specialist and professor of education at the University of Missouri, Columbia.

Following the dinner, there will be an election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. George Hinshaw has served as president since the organization of the council in November.

Students are invited to attend, according to Miss Jane Costello, a sponsor. "If they don't care to come to the dinner," she said, "they're still welcome to come and hear the speaker."

MSC Delegate Attends Delta Psi Kappa Meet

The Beta Alpha chapter of Delta Psi Kappa, professional women's physical education fraternity, sent Ronda Ridnour and Mary Elsberry, both juniors, to the national biennial convention held last weekend in St. Louis.

Dr. Elwood C. Davis of San Fernando State College, a well-known physical educator and patron of the fraternity addressed the group at the All-Convention Luncheon on "Gateways — Open — Closed — Unknown." Other speakers were Miss Helen Manley, former MSC instructor and now executive director of the Social Health Association of Greater St. Louis, and Mr. Walter Eberhardt, director of physical education, St. Louis University and director of physical conditioning for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rural School to Become Campus Historical Site

The MSC campus will soon have the new addition of Hickory Grove, an old country schoolhouse presented by the Nodaway County Historical Society.

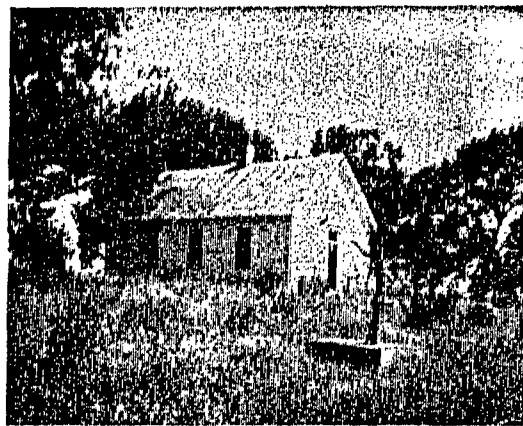

According to Mrs. Neva Rhodes, spokesman for the society, the one-room building is presently located in mid-northern Nodaway County, but it will be moved to the campus east of the Administration Building Auditorium this spring. It will serve as a small museum of "old times" in order that today's students and public may see and compare the old with the new.

Mrs. Rhodes, former Maryville teacher, is in charge of the building's authentic restoration. She has taken a special interest in the project as some of her immediate ancestors were involved with educational activities in the school.

Her maternal grandfather, Mr. William Pence, served on the school's first board as chairman, and helped to make building plans for the school. In 1883 the building was constructed, with the total building cost being approximately $70. It was considered modern for its time.

During 1887 and 1888, Mrs. Rhodes' father, Mr. Charles McDermott, taught at Hickory Grove and later married one of his former students, Viola Pence.

Items of past rural school days are being sought for MSC's small educational museum.

The restoration of the old school was first envisioned by Mrs. Rhodes. The project will require much effort because none of the original furnishings remain.

Mrs. Rhodes has possession of all of the school's records, and she has written a 25,000 word manuscript entitled "Secrets of the Old Schoolhouse," which will soon be published in book form. One year after she wrote the manuscript, she made contact with the Historical Society, and they in turn also found interest in the project of restoring the building and its contents.

Mr. Eldon Milbank, former high school student in Mrs. Rhodes' classes, donated the old school house. He and his wife own the land on which the school is presently located.

Several of Mrs. Rhodes' relatives and other interested people have donated money for the restoration. Among these donors are Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Pettigrew, faculty members at Moberly; State Representative and Mrs. H. F. Holland, Sheridan; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pence, Graham; Mrs. Rhodes, Maryville, and her daughter, Miss Janice Rhodes, St. Louis teacher. Several of the listed donors are graduates of or have attended MSC.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Scott, Maryville, will donate services for transporting the building to the campus.

No definite time has been set for the opening of the restored schoolhouse.

After the completion of the project, the old schoolhouse will be kept open at regular hours with a "teacher" dressed in old-fashioned costume to explain the story of early schooling.

Mrs. Rhodes remarked that she is in particular need of old desks and if anyone would care to help the project in this way, his help will be deeply appreciated. Any gifts of furniture or other equipment or financial donations will be accepted gratefully.

Northwest Missouri Junior Scientists Vie for Honors at Initial Meeting

The Northwest Junior Academy of Science will hold its first meeting this afternoon in the film and reading rooms of the Wells Library, according to Dr. Kenneth Minter, chairman of the biology department.

The purpose of the Academy, which is sponsored by the Missouri Academy of Science through the aid of a National Science Foundation Grant, is to stimulate scientific research by junior high and senior high school students.

Twenty-three students from Northwest Missouri schools will compete for the opportunity of taking their papers to the Senior Academy meeting Apr. 26, 27 at the University of Missouri at Kansas City. The two papers judged to be the best will be certified for the UMKC competition.

Students will read their papers prepared on such topics as "Mouse Behavior," "Remembering and Forgetting,"

"Dreams," "Drugs and Their Abuses," "21st Century," "The Photoelectric Effect of Light," "Measurement of the Angle Between Two Stars," and "Preparation and Use of a Chemical Indicator."

Most of the papers are library research papers. They were recommended to the Junior Academy by teachers of the students.

Judges for the contest are Dr. Ted Weichinger, Dr. John Shinpoch, Tarkio, and Mr. Wayne VanZomeren. Sister Mary Benet Obeare, LeBlond High School, is the co-director. Beta Beta Beta members will be time keepers.

Participating schools are West Nodaway R-I High School, Stewartville High School, Richmond High School, Trenton Junior High School, Lafayette High School, Central High School, LeBlond High School, Chillicothe Junior High School, Union Star R-II High School, and Carrollton Junior High School.

Union Committee Sponsors 'Topics,' Concerts

Planning for the coming lecture by Craig Spence are members of Union Committee Five. They are Jan Wilkes, Stan Wright and Jim Gay, co-chairmen, and Cindy Burgett, seated. Standing are Glenda Thompson, Connie Diehl, Elbert Black II, Jim Neal, Mike Hoffelmeyer, Elaine Thompson, and Jean Evans.

Craig Spence, roving correspondent for Mutual Broadcasting System, will reveal "The Truth About the News" and evaluate the repression of facts in a lecture to be given at 4 p. m. Apr. 17 in the Union Ballroom.

Mr. Spence recently has returned from Vietnam, where he interviewed officials, flew on missions, and observed troops in combat. During this time as correspondent for the Mutual Broadcasting System, he gained information about news repression for security purposes. Mr. Spence will impart some of his learning to help students understand why news is repressed.

The news lecture is one of several programs sponsored by Committee Five, Education, of the Union Board this year. Russ Burgess on ESP and Sidney Cohen on LSD, are others who have presented informative lectures, which are part of the "Topics of Our Times." These have also included films and lectures entitled "One Potato, Two Potatoes," "Building of the Bomb," and "Kennedy." Committee Five, headed by Stan Wright and Jim Gay, plans these events to help students understand timely and controversial subjects.

The education committee also sponsored the fall concert by the Sandpipers. Future spring plans include a Folk Night, May 4, featuring the Sunday Funnies and other groups yet to be selected. In addition, a powder puff soapbox derby is tentatively scheduled for May 4.

Members of Committee Five are Vicki Baker, Cindy Burgett, Connie Diehl, Anthony Gurt, Roni Hanson, Mike Hoffelmeyer, Jim Neal, Betsy Thompson, Jan Wilkes, Elaine Thompson, and Jean Evans.

Other participants are Steve Mutz, Nancy Powell, Glenda Thompson, Elbert Black II, Doyle Brown, Robert Bukowski, John Gardner, and Mike Simmons.

The committee welcomes any requests or suggestions for "Topics of Our Times."

March was truly the month of winds, as noted by the Stroller. These winds presented new problems for students and faculty members who wore their wigs, hairpieces and falls with more than a little apprehension.

The pond is becoming crowded as warm weather brings on more than a little merriment. Not only the guys are in the swim this season. Jeanne Hutsell, a Hudson Hall coed, was thrown in recently as an extra treat on her birthday.

With the sun shining brightly, the proud owners of motorcycles and convertibles are out in full force again. Cries of anguish can be heard from those not possessing one of those coveted prizes. For those not so lucky, the Stroller suggests the romantic bicycle-built-for-two which can be rented on any of these beautiful afternoons.

Welcome back, student teachers. You made it in time for Walk-Out Day!

Good luck to all the seniors who are ready to replace their role as a student with that of a teacher.

Kites have become favorite possessions of the coeds living in center fourth Hudson Hall. On windy days Linda Shrum,

AWS Schedules Mother's Weekend

The second annual Mother's Weekend, sponsored by the Associated Women Students, will be held Apr. 26-28.

The three-day activities will begin with registration on Friday afternoon in each residence hall. That evening mothers along with their daughters, will attend the Ugly Man carnival in Lamkin Gymnasium.

On Saturday morning, women in each hall will be hostesses at the brunch, followed by individual campus tours. AWS members will present a variety show depicting college life at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Charles Johnson Theater.

Each organization on campus has been asked to nominate one "Mother of the Year" candidate. The winner will be honored at a banquet for the mothers in the new cafeteria Saturday evening.

Urged to attend Sunday church services with their daughters, mothers are free to spend the rest of the day as they choose.

The purpose of this event, which originated last year, is to give each mother a chance to see how her daughter lives away from home and to get a first-hand view of college life.

Co-chairmen for the weekend activities are Leslie Hunter and Millie Magner.

Readers' Opinions Before Voting

Consider Candidates Carefully

Dear Editor:

I would like to make it clear that the presence of Dr. John Swomley as a speaker for Religious Emphasis Week does not imply endorsement of his position by the Christian community of Maryville.

In my opinion his position represents only one of several positions that Christians might take. In contrast to his critical remarks concerning one fraternity's relay in support of our servicemen, I heartily support the fraternity.

I also believe that it is possible for a Christian to be patriotic. Nationalism and patriotism are not necessarily the same thing as he implied.

It is my hope that the Religious Life Council will endeavor to secure speakers in the future who can be more objective in their presentations.

Tom Peake Jr., Pastor,
First Christian Church

To the Editors:

I wish to correct three implications in the Mar. 15 articles on the objectives of SDS—"... would like to have the Bell Tower funds changed to library funds."

1. Bell Tower funds are donated for that specific purpose and cannot be "changed." There is no public (college) money in the Bell Tower Funds.

2. The library is not in dire need of funds. Available this year is $90,000, more than five times the record $17,000 for 1963. This is for materials only. Additional funds are being used for building and equipment.

3. The Bell Tower is not taking potential donors from the library. Since the initiation of the fund, the library has received more money in gifts than it had in my previous tenure here (since 1948).

LOST RING?

Found: Boy's class ring — may be claimed at the circulation desk at the Wells Library by identifying it, according to Mrs. Max Brown, circulation librarian.

To the Editors:

Those who operate REW seem to be more concerned with the dissenting students and faculty who refuse to attend the festivities and those who criticize REW, than their already secured flock, their captive audience, who wallow in the ensuing inspiration and insight.

Surely the advocates of REW don't mean to be hypocritical when they accuse the opposition of labeling. The brethren of REW attack some labels of their own — Agnosticism, Militancy, Individuality, and their favorite, Apathy.

The pros and cons of REW should unite — BROTHERHOOD — and shoot at some mutually agreeable labels — AWS, GDI, Panhellenic and Intrafraternal Councils, Liberalism, etc. Why bother with major moral and ethical concerns? We must stand and fight for and preserve the biggest label of all — NWMSC.

John Sanden

To the Editors:

As a member of Religious Life Council and a co-chairman for REW, I feel that some changes in format should be made for REW. I would still allow the idea of REW to exist, but would simplify many of the concerns and technicalities involved in the organization.

To achieve this, I would favor an ecumenical meeting on campus between the religious groups and other persons concerned once every two or three months. A main speaker would be invited, and the time could be spent in workshops or forums.

This would allow for choice of attendance, better planning and organization and would comply better with the college schedule. Meetings which are known and scheduled could represent religious issues throughout the year. This could be efficiently handled and better cooperation would be possible.

Betsy Bouska

When students cast their votes Apr. 17 for officers and members of the Student Senate, we hope that they will vote for persons possessing the best qualifications and presenting the strongest platforms rather than choosing merely on the basis of organizational affiliation.

Specifically, we are referring to the Greek and anti-Greek camps who annually field candidates simply because they believe a Greek or a non-Greek would make the

'The Art of Love' To Be Den Movie

"The Art of Love," a zany comedy filmed in France, will be the den movie at 7 p. m. Apr. 19.

In it, James Garner persuades Dick Van Dyke, a penniless painter, to feign suicide because his art will sell better if he is dead. The scheme works until Mr. Van Dyke continues to paint and sell when he is "deceased."

Meanwhile, Elkie Sommer, Angie Dickinson, and Carl Reiner also become involved in the plot. The result is a slapstick-type of laughter of the merriest kind.

Students Propose:

'Expand Curriculum to Include Genetics, Conservation, Russian, More Radio-TV, Driver Training'

Many students agree that the need for improvement always exists. When asked the question, "What courses do you think should be added at MSC and why?" students proposed the following:

A freshman marketing major, Eldon Hunsicker, feels there should be a full curriculum offered in radio-television since there are many students interested in this field.

Sandy Slater, senior English major, suggested more foreign languages for specialization, more emphasis on grammar since study of this is usually terminated with the high school years, and more speech oriented courses for English majors who are often responsible for play production and speech activities in their teaching positions.

"There is an expanding need for people in the field of genetics as it is becoming more important to everyday life. Advanced courses should be added which will enable graduates to teach this field adequately in high school," stated Marilyn Wieneke, junior biology major.

A physical education major, David R. Still, senior, proposed that more driver education courses be added to prevent accidents which result in needless handicaps to thousands each year.

Lyle McKee, freshman agriculture major, believes more students would be drawn to MSC and would be interested in "the future of our beautiful land" if added courses were offered in conservation and forestry.

better officer or representative. This reason alone seems petty when students consider the stakes at hand.

Many predict that the next term of the Senate will be critical as the student legislators grapple with such issues as student power, a student bill of rights, and the exercise of powers as "the responsible governing body for the students of the college."

The Student Senate has the enumerated powers to appoint members of discipline committees, to allow new campus groups to form, to control campus-wide elections, and to grant approval for the raising of funds.

We challenge the candidates who are running for class representatives and officers of the Senate to present platforms to the student body in open forums concerning their views on student participation in the administration of college affairs, the student bill of rights, and the exercise of powers delegated to them through the constitution.

In this way, all students, the actual members of the Student Government Association, can determine those who have courage to conduct open dialogue with the administration, who are concerned about the functions and rights of students at MSC, and who will be committed to represent the student body at large.

Perhaps then, the voters can have the opportunity actually to choose representatives in the truest sense of the word instead of resorting to voting for a name tag.

... Ideas Sought on REW ...

Religious Emphasis Week has come and gone, not without the usual criticism, complaints, poor attendance, and cries of its being unconstitutional.

This year's "new morality" theme allowed students to express their opinions about MSC and receive an insight into campus life and life in general that they didn't have before.

The speakers supplied ideas and answers well worth considering for those who heard them.

All of the speakers agreed, at the open forum held at the UCCF-Wesley Center, that students at MSC were nice, kind, cordial, willing to listen and clap at the end of a speech. But, they seem to be unwilling to take action for the things they say they believe in and brought up at the meetings.

Although students have many things to consider, one question now is, what is the next step in the evolution of REW at MSC? Should it be completely abandoned as in some other colleges? Should it be modified or changed? How? What format would appeal to students?

Would students be interested in having religious-affiliated speakers come throughout the year as lecturers? Should they conduct seminars and conferences?

Although the church-service atmosphere was removed this year, there were still fewer than 1,000 people reached at the convocations. Are students truly not interested, or are they truly apathetic?

These questions are being considered by the faculty committee for REW, members of Religious Life Council, and other interested students. They would like to know faculty and student opinion on the issue, and welcome suggestions for change. Anyone who has ideas on these topics may contact Dr. Kenneth Minter or leave their suggestions in the Northwest Missourian office.

Missourian Editorial Board Is Responsible for Decisions

The Northwest Missourian, the MSC campus newspaper, is run much like a business corporation, complete with owners, Board of Directors and company officials.

Since the Missourian cannot depend on advertising for revenue, the paper is owned by the college and is financed in part by state appropriations as in any other state-operated institution. The composite owner is a combination of the governor, the legislature, the people of Missouri, the board of regents, the college president, and the students.

The Northwest Missourian's company officials are the co-editors, managing editors, the adviser, and all those with major jobs pertaining to the regular production of the paper.

The board of directors for the Missourian is the editorial board. It is comprised of approximately 14 students and the adviser. The board meets at 6:30 o'clock on Tuesday evenings.

At the meetings reader interest of different stories is discussed, and all letters to the editor and guest editorials are evaluated. Anything of controversy either is rejected or approved by a vote of the board members. Much emphasis is placed on professional standards of journalism and college policies.

Since the paper represents the college as an official publication, the writers attempt to align their reporting to the policies of the editorial board.

All major decisions for the Northwest Missourian are made by the editorial board. The board members are eager to serve the newspaper and the college. They invite anyone to discuss the newspaper and its policies with them.

'Cat Nine Gain 4-3 Mark

The MSC baseball squad has accumulated a 2-1 record in the Northern Division of the MIAA and a 4-3 overall mark since the season opened Mar. 30.

Southpaw Scott Kurtz fanned 10 batters in a 3-0, 4-hit shutout Mar. 30 to give the Bearcats a split in their season-opening doubleheader against Peru, Neb., State.

Peru's starting pitcher, Bill Everhart, gave up all three MSC runs in the second inning of the nightcap. Outfielder Dave Ross opened the 'Cat offensive with a walk, and infielder Bob Weyrauch reached base on an error. Everhart issued a base-on-ball to hurler Kurtz, and third baseman Joe Spinello drove in two runs with a line single. The third run scored on a single by Dennis Kurtz.

The Bobcats won the opener 5-4 as the Bearcats had some first game jitters. MSC hurler Don Orlowski allowed only four hits and fanned 10 but received little defensive support as the 'Cats committed eight errors. One of the Peru hits, a double by Rich Ideus in the extra eighth inning, plated the final two Bobcat runs.

MSC came back with a tally of its own in the bottom of the eighth but couldn't bring home the tying run.

Freshman Dave Smith pitched seven-hit ball for a 3-1 MSC victory in the opener of a

'Cat Golfers Down Peru in Opener

Northwest Missouri State's varsity golfers opened their season last Monday with a resounding 15-3 win over Peru, Neb., State on the Auburn, Neb., links.

Although several new swingers made their debut to college varsity golf, Coach Ryland Milner reported he was pleased with their performance for an opening match. Freshman Jim Williams took medalist honors with a 77.

Maryville won all six matches with the following results: Larry Maiorano defeated Mike Barsi, 2-1; Don Sills, Larry Roder, 2-1; Jim Williams, Ron Swain, 3-0. Ron Hurst defeated Roger Gardner, 2-1; Chuck Wurst beat Mike Rosso, 3-0, and Mike Larimore downed Rick Allgood, 3-0.

doubleheader with Nebraska Wesleyan Apr. 1 at Lincoln, Neb.

A 1-1 tie at the end of regulation seven innings, the game broke open when the 'Cats pushed two runs across the plate in the top of the ninth to provide Smith with the winning margin.

Dave Price opened the Bearcat ninth by getting on base on an error. After stealing second, Price was brought home on a single by Rich Swaney, who went to second on the play at the plate. Centerfielder Bob Nelson then singled Swaney home.

Nelson and first baseman Lou Mooney were the big sticks for MSC in the doubleheader with identical 4-for-3 performances.

The nightcap was a different story as the 'Cats committed six errors, and Wesleyan rushed to a 7-1 third inning lead.

Bob Schantz, the starting MSC pitcher, was relieved in the third by Angel Melendez, who was in turn replaced by Tim Milner in the sixth.

The MSC nine blanked visiting Northeast Missouri State, 10-0, Friday afternoon behind the two-hit, 14-strikeout pitching of Don Orlowski.

Orlowski allowed only four baserunners in evening his record at 1-1. He was backed up on the Bearcat offense by Benny Cain, who slapped three hits in four trips to the plate, accounting for four RBI's.

Northeast State returned Saturday to break even in a doubleheader. Scotty Kurtz went all the way for the 'Cats in the first game to gain a 6-0 shutout. Three Bearcat pitchers, Smith, Don Sears, and Melendez, saw action in the second game as the Northeast Bulldogs pulled out a squeaking 1-0 victory.

MSC hosts a three-game MIAA series with Warrensburg today and tomorrow. Today's single game is scheduled for 3:30 p. m. and tomorrow's twin-bill begins at 1 p. m.

MSC tennis men pushed their season dual record to 2-1 by recent defeats over Graceland College and Midwestern College.

Although it's not too well known, approximately 40 students are working out in Lamkin Gymnasium at 6 a. m. Monday and Wednesday under the direction of Coach Ivan Schottel's Theory Class.

The MSC Bearcats went down to defeat at the hands of host Peru, Neb., Wednesday in their '68 outdoor track debut, 90-55.

The 'Cats, led by Normal Howlett, Pete Hager, and Tom Dahlhauser, could not duplicate their victory of last year. Dahlhauser, a sophomore, set a new school record by throwing the discus 151 feet, 4 inches, shattering the old mark of 142-9. Howlett and Hager teamed to win the 440- and 220-yard relays, and Hager captured the 100-yard dash in 10 flat.
